

FAIR HOUSING POLICY

Opportunities for Housing, Resources and Assistance (OHRA) affirmatively furthers the Fair Housing Act by not discriminating in housing because of: race or color, national origin, religion, sex (including gender identity and sexual orientation), familial status (including children under the age of 18 living with parents or legal custodians; pregnant women and people securing custody of children under 18), and disability.

